

Work From Home Policy

Version: 1.0

Effective date: 2026-01-01

Approval status: Approved by Human Resources

Eligibility and limit

Eligible employees may work from home up to two days per workweek. The arrangement depends on role suitability and business needs.

Approval

Employees must request work-from-home days through their manager at least one working day in advance. Managers may decline a request when team coverage or business needs require on-site work.

Availability

Employees working from home must remain available during standard working hours, attend scheduled meetings, and use the approved company communication tools.
